Thanks Abdulla. I've received 5 detailed quotes, let me just discuss with my team, as all of you guys have solid reviews, some are considered pro fiver app creators and some have better price quotes than you. Let me get back to you after my team decides who would be best suited especially with price and monthly support fees. Thanks

Me 17 Jan, 3:45

Okay, I completely understand that you have five detailed quotes to consider, and you're discussing this with your team.

It's important to make the right decision. I know some Fiverr Pro sellers may offer a better price, but I can assure you that not everyone can deliver the quality you're looking for. I am committed to providing top-notch quality and value.

If you have a specific price range in mind, feel free to let me know, and I'll see how I can offer a discount to meet your budget.

As for the monthly support fee, I offer six months of free ongoing support, as mentioned earlier. After six months, my standard monthly maintenance fee is typically between $300 and $1,000, but if you decide to move forward with me, I can offer it at a discounted rate of $200 per month for maintenance.

Looking forward to hearing from you and hoping we can proceed together.

Best regards,
Mahmud

I completely understand your concerns, and I want to assure you that I take every project seriously.

Yes, you may have seen some negative re-views on my profile, but it's important to keep in mind that in any field, it's nearly impossible to satisfy every single person.

Over the years, I've completed over 1,500 orders, and the majority of them have resulted in positive fee-dback. But just like anyone else, there will always be a few clients who aren't fully satisfied, and I always strive to address their concerns.

If you look at my profile, you'll see a lot of positive re-views from clients who were happy with the results.

I take pride in my work and always aim for the best. If you decide to move forward, I'll handle everything for you design, front-end, back-end, and deployment. Plus, I offer six months of free ongoing support, so if you encounter any issues, I'll fix them at no extra cost during that time.

At the end of the day, I want to build a solid, trusting relationship with you. As a Fiverr top-rated seller, I am committed to delivering high-quality results, and my track record proves that.

I hope this gives you the confidence to move forward with me, and I'm here to address any further concerns you might have.

Looking forward to hearing from you.

I definitely see a lot of good reviews. I just want to make sure why that was such a poor review and why you couldn't finish it on time? And why that app didn't pan out? Was my workflow clear enough for you to surely do a perfect job? Will you tweak it over and over again till it's to my liking? I am looking for a great team behind me as I'll have many different projects in the future. But I need this one to pan put perfectly first

Me

17 Jan, 7:11

I completely understand your concerns, and I appreciate you taking the time to ask these questions. Let me explain a bit further about the situation.

The negative review you mentioned was related to a communication gap with that specific client. We had set up meetings and provided clear timelines, but unfortunately, the client didn't respond to messages or confirm their availability on time.

Effective communication is key, and when a client doesn't engage as expected, it can lead to delays. We were fully ready to proceed, but couldn't move forward due to the lack of timely responses.

Regarding the app that didn't work out, sometimes issues arise during the app publishing process, especially with privacy policies and app store guidelines.

When apps are rejected, the stores usually provide fee-dback, and we work hard to address their concerns.

We just need to tweak the app and resubmit it after making the necessary adjustments. That's just part of the process, and I'm confident we can avoid such issues with your project by staying proactive.

I understand that the negative re-views can be concerning, but I want to assure you that I'm committed to delivering high-quality work.

I'm not here just for one project; I'm looking to build a long-term relationship with you, and I'll give you six months of free ongoing support once the project is complete. If I weren't confident in delivering the best results, I wouldn't offer this support.

You can see from my profile and past work that I have a proven track record with over 1,500 completed orders and 70+ active ones.

Most of my clients are repeat clients, which shows the trust and satisfaction they have in my work.

I genuinely want to work with you and make your project a success.

I'm here for the long haul, and I'm happy to discuss this further or set up a meeting to clear up any doubts you may have.

Looking forward to hearing from you soon.

Best regards,
Mahmud

Hey im just trying to figure out who I should go ahead with. The one bad review was really disheartening to read. But I do like the rest of your good reviews. I just want someone I can work well with as this is not the only one project I want done. I need a really great team to work with so I can make all my projects come to life. How many people are on your team? And is this something you can do for sure and keep retweaking until were satisfied? I dont want someone who will just purposely take long snd charge me extra. I want to talk it out and figure out how much it'll exactly cost and if you can donit exactly to my liking

Thank you for your honest feedback.

 Me Hello Vinies, Thank you for your honest feedback. I understand your concerns and respect your need for a reliable long-term partner. To address your points: Negative re-views are inevitable for any seller, especially with over 1,500 orders. What matters is the overall consistency, which is reflected in my many positive re-views and repeat clients. Trust is essential, and Fiverr's system ensures your funds are securely held until you're fully satisfied. I only receive p-ayment once you approve the delivery. I offer milestone-based work, daily updates, and regular meetings to ensure progress is aligned with your expectations. Revisions are included within the agreed scope. My dedicated team (designers, front-end, back-end, and QA) ensures smooth progress and communication. Regarding pricing: I'm happy to discuss and adjust the quote based on your budget. Let's finalize the details to ensure full transparency. I look forward to building a long-term working relationship and delivering a great project together. Best Regards, Mahmud	19 Jan, 20:22
 Me Hello Vinies, I hope you're doing well. I just wanted to check in and see if you had any further thoughts or questions after our last conversation. I understand how important it is to find the right team, and I want to make sure you feel confident in moving forward with us. As mentioned, we're committed to making sure everything is exactly as you want it and are happy to adjust the project until it meets your satisfaction. We're here to build a strong, long-term partnership, and I'm confident we can deliver the results you're looking for. If you're ready, we can finalise the details and start planning the next steps.  Me Hi Vinies, Thank you for your response. I wanted to clarify something regarding the unlimited revisions. I have always been committed to ensuring that my clients are fully satisfied with the final product, and I do offer revisions until you are happy with the results. I'm Mahmud, the CEO of UI VERSE, and I've successfully completed over 1500+ projects on Fiverr. I'm proud to say that I stay connected with all my clients and always support them even after the project is completed. Whenever they face any issues, I'm always here to help. I understand if you have concerns, but I want to assure you that this is a core value of my team, to provide ongoing support and ensure satisfaction throughout the entire process. If you decide to work with another team, that's your choice, but I want to make sure you understand that we are fully committed to delivering the best experience possible. It saddens me that you feel otherwise, but I'm here to address any concerns you may have. Best regards, Mahmud CEO, UI VERSE	22 Jan, 12:08

Dear Vinle,

I hope you're doing well.

Regarding the RFID integration, we are clear on how it can be triggered in your web application. However, could you please provide more details on where and how the RFID will be used within your application? Understanding the flow and specific use cases will help us ensure the integration is seamless.

Additionally, in your previous documentation, it was mentioned that the application is only. However, now you've mentioned it as a web application. Could you confirm if this is a change in direction, or if you only require the web application at this stage?

Lastly, I wanted to mention that we had scheduled a second meeting, but unfortunately, we had to end it as we were waiting for 10–15 minutes and didn't hear from your side. I understand it might be late, but please let me know your thoughts and share any relevant documentation explaining the RFID use cases and how it fits into the app's workflow.

I have also attached an example of one of my previous web applications for your reference.

Me

Hello Vinle,

I hope you're doing well today.

I just wanted to follow up and see if there are any updates on your end.

Could you kindly send me the document outlining where and how you plan to use the RFID in the application?

Also, did you get a chance to review the websites I shared with you? I'd love to hear your thoughts.

Looking forward to hearing from you soon.

Best regards,
Mahmud

vinles709

Good morning,
Thanks for the call yesterday with all the information. As for the RFID scanning, it will be needed to be integrated throughout the app to mimic how it is used in our current POS software (Indica Online). This will include full audit functionality, along with the ability to scan and check off outgoing orders prior to shipping. All of our products get an RFID sticker attached after the product is received, so this functionality is vital to us within this app we are building. Currently, our team is still reviewing the websites you shared with us. I can also confirm that yes, we are indeed looking for a web based application to be built.

Me

Hello Vinle,

Good morning.

Thank you for the update! I completely understand the need for RFID integration throughout the app, especially for the full audit functionality and scanning of outgoing orders.

No worries, take your time with reviewing the websites I shared. I'm confident I can build the web-based application exactly as you need.

Please feel free to reach out if you have any further questions or concerns.

I'll also reach out if I have any clarifications or queries in the future.

Once you're ready to move forward, just let me know, and we can proceed with the next steps.

Looking forward to your response!

Best regards,
Mahmud

Hey abdulla can you send me an updated proper quote of exactly what you'll be doing for us with the updated 6 months free post launch support, and you mentioned after 6 months we can have 24 hours support for the app for 200$ per month. In the document you have it written as 1000$ per month, so it's been throwing us off a bit. If you can fix all this in writing, and can surely tweak and make the app to our liking, we can surely go ahead with you and your team!
